The History

In July 1988 a task force, initiated by the State Personnel Office, explored the benefits of establishing an ongoing professional training organization. An organizational structure was developed, presented to state training personnel, and unanimously accepted. This was the beginning of the STATEWIDE TRAINING ADVISORY NETWORK (STAN.) In 1999, the name was amended to "STAND."

STAND has worked to meet its objectives by providing its members with: at least 6 training sessions annually addressing current issues in training, career and organizational development, and technology; a forum for sharing resources and advocacy; and continual development of quality initiatives.

STAND membership has steadily risen and currently includes professionals from public and private organizations throughout Delaware and the region.
